One Year Sentences Given PTA Officers

While strains of "The Prisoner's Song" was heard in the background, a most unique and interesting installation of the new officers of the Torrance Elementary PTA took place Tuesday, May 16, in the school auditorium. The theme, "Order in the Court," was carried out by the installing officer, "Judge McClure," better known as Mrs. James McClure.

As each officer was called to the bench by the bailiff, they were found "guilty" of working for the welfare of children and were sentenced to a year at a labor of love.

Instead of names, they were given numbers depicting the number of years they have devoted to some type of service to children. In the preliminary investigation it was found the "prisoners" were guilty of having 2 parakeets, 1 rabbit, 1 turtle, 3 donkeys, 30 pigeons, 200 fish, 3 dogs, 3 cats and a total of 30 children, all of whom it is hoped will not suffer too much because of the sentence imposed by the court.

The incumbent officers were found to have served their offices faithfully and well and were given full pardon and were immediately released to make room for the new guilty novices. Immediately following the sentences, each officer was placed in the line-up and "mug" shots were taken by the court photographer to be kept in the files of the association for future identification.
